A.L.I.V.E. Bible Study Date: August 21, 2019 Galatians 6

- 1. How, according to 6:1, should we respond to someone who is caught in a sin?
 - a. We should punish them so that they understand the severity of their infraction.
 - b. We should avoid them because it is a little embarrassing but tell the pastor and anybody else who will listen what they have done.
 - c. We should put that on our list of examples of why we can't live the way God has called us to live, so we feel a little better about our failures.
 - d. If we live by the Spirit, we should restore that person gently.

a.	what ways could we be tempted when we are trying to restore someone who has fallen? Satan is crouching and waiting to use the sin that ensnared them to entice you as well. We may begin to take pride in the work we do to restore others (look how gracious I am) inst
b.	of realizing that it is God who provided for their restoration.
c.	When someone else has fallen, Satan may lure you into spiritual pride by causing you to thin about how you didn't fall instead of realizing that but for the grace of God you would be in the
d.	same place (verse 4). All of the above.
Ho	ow, according to 6:2, do we fulfill the law of Christ?
W	nen somebody has sinned, do you carry their burden or do you use it as an opportunity to advan urself?

a.	What do verses 3-5 say about how we are to view ourselves?
ч.
	•
	what do verses 5 5 say about now we are to view ourserves.
	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses?
a.	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should restore people the way we would want to be restored.
	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should restore people the way we would want to be restored. Perhaps it means that we should carry each others burdens the way we would want others to
a. b.	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should restore people the way we would want to be restored. Perhaps it means that we should carry each others burdens the way we would want others to carry ours.
a.	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should restore people the way we would want to be restored. Perhaps it means that we should carry each others burdens the way we would want others to carry ours. Perhaps it means we should be humble and selfless, the way we would want others to be hum
a. b.	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should restore people the way we would want to be restored. Perhaps it means that we should carry each others burdens the way we would want others to carry ours. Perhaps it means we should be humble and selfless, the way we would want others to be hun and help us.
a. b. c.	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should restore people the way we would want to be restored. Perhaps it means that we should carry each others burdens the way we would want others to carry ours. Perhaps it means we should be humble and selfless, the way we would want others to be hun and help us.
a.b.c.d.	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should restore people the way we would want to be restored. Perhaps it means that we should carry each others burdens the way we would want others to carry ours. Perhaps it means we should be humble and selfless, the way we would want others to be hun and help us. Well it seems to be talking about who we are trying to pleas with our actionsthe flesh or the Spirit. hat are you sowing?
a. b. c. d.	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should restore people the way we would want to be restored. Perhaps it means that we should carry each others burdens the way we would want others to carry ours. Perhaps it means we should be humble and selfless, the way we would want others to be hun and help us. Well it seems to be talking about who we are trying to pleas with our actionsthe flesh or the Spirit. hat are you sowing?
a. b. c. d. WI	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should restore people the way we would want to be restored. Perhaps it means that we should carry each others burdens the way we would want others to carry ours. Perhaps it means we should be humble and selfless, the way we would want others to be hum and help us. Well it seems to be talking about who we are trying to pleas with our actionsthe flesh or the Spirit. That are you sowing? In the context of these verses? In the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should carry each others burdens the way we would want others to be hum and help us. Well it seems to be talking about who we are trying to pleas with our actionsthe flesh or the Spirit.
a.b.c.d.W!—W!a.	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should restore people the way we would want to be restored. Perhaps it means that we should carry each others burdens the way we would want others to carry ours. Perhaps it means we should be humble and selfless, the way we would want others to be hum and help us. Well it seems to be talking about who we are trying to pleas with our actionsthe flesh or the Spirit. That are you sowing? That causes us to become weary in doing good? We lose faith that we will reap what we sow.
a. b. c. d. WI a. b.	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should restore people the way we would want to be restored. Perhaps it means that we should carry each others burdens the way we would want others to carry ours. Perhaps it means we should be humble and selfless, the way we would want others to be hur and help us. Well it seems to be talking about who we are trying to pleas with our actionsthe flesh or the Spirit. That are you sowing? That causes us to become weary in doing good? We lose faith that we will reap what we sow. We are looking for instant gratification (or recognition) and it doesn't always come.
a.b.c.d.W!—W!a.	hat does it mean to say that "a man reaps what he sows" in the context of these verses? Perhaps it means that we should restore people the way we would want to be restored. Perhaps it means that we should carry each others burdens the way we would want others to carry ours. Perhaps it means we should be humble and selfless, the way we would want others to be hun and help us. Well it seems to be talking about who we are trying to pleas with our actionsthe flesh or the Spirit. That are you sowing? That causes us to become weary in doing good? We lose faith that we will reap what we sow.